

In the three-part chords of the following Caprice, the D string must be kept in constant vibration; to bring this about the middle string should be attacked with firmness and decision. The tone throughout must always be free, of beautiful quality, and never dull.

Allegretto.

No 21.
(No 20.)